ANNIVERSARY OF GRANT'S DEATH

The Movement in Regard to the Monument Fund.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Tomorrow is the anniversary of Gen. Grant's death, and an effort will be made to have the bill providing for the appropriation of $250,000 for the Grant monument called up in Congress. Telegrams were sent out today by Secretary Greener to a number of congressmen, asking them to exert their influence in behalf of the bill. It is thought on the anniversary of the death of Gen. Grant no one will be anxious to put himself on record as opposing this measure. The total amount of the Grant fund today is $122,474.69. The last contribution received yesterday was $570.70.

Trotting at Mystic.

BOSTON, July 22.—The third day's race of the summer meeting at Mystic Park did not prove very exciting, and the attendance was smaller than on the two preceeding days. The first event was the 2.32 race in which eight horses started. Helen Wilkes won in three straight heats, though closely pushed by Belle Franklin, who finished second each time.

A FIZZLE.

The Second District Labor Convention Proves a Failure—Another Attempt to Be Made.

[Special to the Press.]

LEWISTON, July 22.—The much-talked of mass convention of laboring men to nominate a candidate for Congress for the Second district met in Auburn Hall this afternoon. Real Knights of Labor in this city are strongly in opposition to the scheme. It has been engineered by politicians of Lewiston mainly. Democrats principally who care nothing whatever for the "poor laboring man," but, are taking this method, as a last resort, to defeat Mr. Dingley. About fifty were present. Sagadahoc, Knox, Lincoln and Franklin counties were not represented. Only three delegates from Oxford county were present. J. W. Harris of Auburn called the convention to order and Mr. Deaton of Rockland was elected chairman. Mr. W. H Simmons of Rockland believed the "mass convention" had not been advertised sufficiently and the consequence was that the people of the rural districts knew nothing whatever of it. He said there was no reason if the organization was thorough why they should not be successful in the coming election. Let a committee be appointed in each county to send delegates to the convention two weeks from next Saturday at some convenient place. In his opinion if a nomination was made at present the people would say it was worked by some kind of a ring or machine for this or that party.

Mr. Rodney Foss of Auburn seconded the motion. Mr. Hobbs of Rockland also spoke in opposition to a nomination being made and favored a call for caucuses to be held in each of the counties in the district. Rodney Foss said the convention had not been called to antagonize any political party, but that the laboring men feel that they had a right to call a convention of their own, but unfortunately, in his opinion it had been called too early. Other speakers followed. It was voted to choose a committee from each county, as far as possible, empowering them to arrange town committees, and then a motion was made to adjourn and meet again August 5th.

The principal movers are A. A. Deaton of Rockland, who holds the offices of city clerk and register of probate in that place; Samuel Russell of Paris; J. H. Murdock, Oxford, and Thomas Barden of Chase's Mills.

MAINE.

Probably Fatally Injured.

BANGOR, July 22.—William Gulliver was thrown under a heavily loaded jigger this morning and run over, sustaining terrible injuries. It is thought that he cannot recover.

Farm House Burned.

BANGOR, July 22.—The farm house of Philip Shines, at Orono, was burned this forenoon. Loss $700; insurance $500. The fire caught about the chimney.

A Child Burned to Death.

MACHIAS, July 22.—The only son of John Hatt of Machias, four years old, while playing with matches, set its clothes on fire, and was burned to death last evening.

From Bar Harbor.

BAR HARBOR, July 22.—The steam yacht Stranger, owned by E. S. Jeffrey of New York, will remain here but two or three days. The Ambassadress, belonging to Mr. N. Thayer of Boston, which arrived yesterdry, will probably leave tomorrow for Portland. The sloop yacht Vixen of New York is here.

Dr. Haskett Derby of Boston has just purchased of G. W. Dove of Andover, Mass., three to four acres in the village, paying $60,000 for it, or over $15,000 per acre. Efforts are being made by gentlemen to secure land for the erection of a Casino stock company.

Suicide Caused by Mental Aberration

RICHMOND, July 22.—Mrs. Fanny Crocker, wife of Capt. Miles Crocker of Rockland, who has been visiting Mrs. George Stilphen of Dresden Mills, was found hanging to the door knob by a silk handkerchief this morning, dead. Mental aberration was the cause of the act.

Another Suicide.

GORHAM, July 22.—Wm. B. Merrill, aged about 50 years, a well-to-do farmer living in East Buxton, shot himself in bed this forenoon, dying instantly. He had been in ill health for some time, and was undoubtedly deranged.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

A Young Lady Shot Dead in a Connecticut Town.

NEW HAVEN, July 22.—The village of Morris, near Litchfield, is greatly excited tonight over a mysterious murder which occurred there today. The victim is Miss Mattie Randall, 15 years old, the daughter of Calvort Randall. Her body was found this afternoon near her home with a terrible gun shot wound in the breast. The only evidence so far discovered is the gun which was found near by, and said to belong to Charles Lockwood, who lives at Canaan. Search was immediately made for the young man, but he has not yet been found. Lockwood has been very intimate with the young lady for some time and it is reported he was seen with her today.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Debate Continued in the Payne Investigation Case.

Senators Sherman and Frye Argue in Favor of Investigation.

Secretary Manning Resumed the Duties of His Office.

J. Randolph Tucker and the Solicitor Generalship.

[Special to the PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The debate upon the Payne investigation case continued in the Senate today. Messrs. Teller and Eustis speaking against the investigation, and Messrs. Sherman and Frye in its favor. Mr. Sherman, through his intimate knowledge of the feelings of the people of Ohio in the matter, could state in positive terms that the Senate would be considered direlect in its duty if it failed to order the investigation. Mr. Frye said that he possibly based his vote upon different grounds from the other members of the committee. He maintained that whether evidence taken by the committee of the Ohio legislature showed probable cause to believe that corrupt means were used to secure the election of Mr. Payne or not, if the legislature of that great State by its resolution asked the Senate of the United States to investigate the title by which one of her Senators held his seat, it was the duty of the Senate to do it. The Senate could not afford to have the right of one of its members to his seat remain a matter of doubt. Mr. Frye renewed at length the evidence taken by the legislative committee in Ohio, which was forwarded to the Senate and asserted that it should be sufficient to convince any man beyond a doubt that the standard oil company had thrown the mighty power of its wealth into the Senatorial canvas and secured the election of Mr. Payne. The outgoing Senator, Mr. Pendleton, had served but one term in the Senate, and that faithfully. Under the established rule in his State he should have been returned, and there seemed to be no question but he would be until long after the legislature was elected and shortly before the meeting of the caucus for Senator. Then it was that members, who had been pronounced for Pendleton, were by some subtle means converted to Payne, who, before the fall elections, was not mentioned as a possible or probable candidate. In closing his speech of nearly two hours in length, Mr. Frye said that he had served with Mr. Payne in the lower House and had always respected him as an honorable, upright man. That he would admit that nothing in the evidence submitted by the Ohio legislature to the Senate—the slightest degree implicated Mr. Payne, or left the faintest touch of corruption upon his garments, but when in the face of public accusations through the press, confined to neither of the great political parties, of resolutions of his legislature, the Senator from Ohio failed to rise in his place in the Senate and demand the fullest investigation his confidence in his title to his seat must waver. The debate will be closed tomorrow by Senator Eustis, and a vote on taking up the the resolution for investigation. The Democratic Senators swelled by votes of Messrs. Teller, Logan and Evarts, and possibly of a few other Republicans will defeat it.

Civil Service Rules.

In the Senate this morning Mr. Edmunds offered a resolution directing the civil service commissioners to send to the Senate a copy of the civil service rules and regulations, both general and special, as they were in force on the 4th of March, 1885; also copies of all changes and modifications thereof; also information in their possession touching any and all alleged or supposed violations of any such rules and regulations. This resolution was adopted.

A Committee Disagreement.

Mr. Allison reported from the conference committee on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill that the committee had been unable to agree, the House still insisting on its disagreement to three pending propositions. On motion of Mr. Allison the Senate still further insisted and asked for a further conference. The conferees being appointed the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar.

Death of William Hunter.

William Hunter, second assistant secretary of the State, and the oldest official in continuous service in the United States, died here today of a complication of diseases incident to his age.

Secretary Manning Much Better.

A friend of Mrs. Secretary Manning in this city, has received letters from her stating that the Secretary's health is improving so rapidly that he will probably be able to resume his official duties when he returns in October.

Hastening Adjournment.

The two Houses, warned by the return of a hot wave this morning, are endeavoring to hasten adjournment.

The Solicitor Generalship.

The Virginia Congressional delegation will present the name of J. Randolph Tucker to be Solicitor General. Mr. Goode has been notified that he will not be reappointed.

The Extradition Treaty.

There is reason to believe that the Senate will propose important amendments to the extradition treaty.

The Boston Offices.

The President told Congressman Collins before he left for Albany that there would be no more changes in Boston offices until after adjournment. It is understood definitely that there is no present intention of removing Gen. Banks.

XLIXth CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 22.

Mr. Edmunds offered a resolution directing the Civil Service Commissioners to send to the Senate a copy of the civil service rules and regulations, both general and special, as they were in force on the 4th of March, 1885; also copies of all changes and modifications thereof; also information in their possession, touching any and all alleged or supposed violations of any such rules and regulations. It was adopted.

Mr. Allison reported from the conference committee on legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill that the committee had been unable to agree.

The House still insisting on its disagreement to three pending propositions, on motion of Mr. Allison, the Senate still further insisted and asked for further conference. The conferees appointed, the Senate proceeded to a consideration of the bills on the calendar. Fourteen pension bills were passed, including the Senate bill granting a pension of $50 a month to the widow of "Sergeant" Plunkett of Massachusetts.

Mr. Hale, from the conference committee on the naval appropriation bill, submitted a report which was agreed to. He stated that this disposed of the naval appropriation bill, which had not occupied more than an hour of the Senate's time; he also gave notice that unless the chairman of the committee on appropriation pressed the sundry civil bill he (Hale) would tomorrow ask the Senate to take up the deficiency bill and continue its consideration until passed.

The Senate then, at 12.30 o'clock, resumed consideration of the reports on the subject of the proposed investigation of charges affecting the election of Mr. Payne of Ohio. The latter proceeded to address the Senate in support of the views submitted by himself and Senators Evarts and Logan, that the investigation should not be instituted.

Mr Sherman called to the chair (Mr. Sewell and addressed the Senate in favor of the inquiry. He said he sincerely believed if an investigation was granted, his colleague's (Mr Payne) honor would not be touched by the testimony produced, and also referred to the criticism of the acts of public men by the newspapers as rude and rough.

An interrogative debate between Messrs. Sherman and Logan as to the wisdom and equity of the investigation attracted no little interest. Mr. Sherman's remarks were listened to with marked attention. Mr. Eustis who signed the majority report supported that report.

Mr. Frye made a characteristic speech during which he said nothing but profound sense of duty could prevail upon him to vote for an investigation affecting a fellow Senator.

At the close of Mr. Frye's remarks some time was spent in an attempt to arrange for the close of the debate, and for the taking of the vote. Finally it was arranged that the vote should be taken at 2 o'clock tomorrow, the closing speech to be made by Mr. Evarts.

The Senate at 6.30 o'clock adjourned.

HOUSE.

Among the measures introduced in House this morning under the call, was the following:

By Mr. Hatch of Missouri, from the committee on agriculture, the oleomargarine bill with Senate amendments, and with the recommendation that they be non-concurred in. It was referred to the committee of the whole, where it takes its place at the foot of the calendar, and where it can only be reached by laying aside Messrs. Morrison and Randall's tariff bills and one or two internal revenue bills. The House refused to consider the navy increase bill, and immediately Mr. Reagan of Texas called up as privileged matter the inter-State commerce bill, and against this Mr. Hatch raised the question of consideration. The inter-State commerce bill met the same fate as the naval bill, the House refusing, by yeas 102, nays 151, to consider it.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the revenue bills, the object being to reach the oleomargarine bill. The first bill of this character on the calendar was the Morrison tariff bill, and Mr. Morrison asked that it be laid aside.

Mr. Dunham objected, and the objection having been reported to the House, the Speaker announced the question to be on laying the bill aside. This was agreed to—yeas, 167; nays, 63—and the committee resumed its session.

The next revenue bill reached was that giving notice of the termination of the Hawaiian treaty. Mr. Dunham also objected to laying this aside, but on a vote the bill was laid aside—yeas, 158; nays, 60.

Once more the committee resumed its session only to strike another snag in the bill, to reduce the number of internal revenue officers and to provide a better and a more economical administration of the internal revenue laws, which bill was also laid aside; yeas 159, nays 76.

This seventh game was continued until 4.30 when the bill relating to the revenue was laid aside by votes varying from yeas 158, nays 51, to yeas 146, nays 51.

At that time the bill regulating the manufacture of vinegar made from grain was then reached. The friends of the oleomargarine bill resorted to different tactics and instead of asking that the bill be laid aside, Mr. Hatch took the floor to advocate the measure, the object being to make the bill unfinished business so as to prevent the necessity of beginning at the head of the list tomorrow in progress towards the oleomargarine bill. These tactics were successful. The committee then rose, leaving the bill unfinished business, and the House at 5 o'clock adjourned.

IVERMONT DEMOCRATS.

Hon. S. B. Shurtleff Nominated for Governor at Montpelier.

MONTPELIER, Vt. July 22.—The Vermont Democratic State convention was called to order at this place at 10.30 o'clock this morning by Hiram Atkins, chairman of the State committee. The attendance was unprecedentedly large.

In calling the convention to order Mr. Atkins alluded in happy terms to the large convention, and expressed pleasure at having at last the honor of calling a State convention to order when the Democratic party was in the ascendancy in the nation. The large accession of young men he looked upon as an augury for the permanency of Democratic control in the nation.

The temporary organization was effected as follows: Clarence H. Pitkin of Berlin, chairman; Emery Harris, Bennington, J. E. Stapleton of Middleboro, H. S. Root of Newport, and Ora Knapp of Dummerston, secretaries. After roll call the temporary organization was made permanent. Mr. Pitkin made a brief address, speaking highly of the present national administration, and forcibly in support of President Cleveland. He predicted the future success of the party for a long series of years.

S. B. Shurtleff of Montpelier, and P. M. Meldan of Rutland were then nominated for Governor and Lieutenant Governor respectively by a unanimous vote, as were also Thomas H. Chubb of Thetford for Treasurer, and J. A. Wilder of Windsor for Auditor.

The platform adopted expresses satisfaction with the administration of President Cleveland and admiration for his firm adherence to the Constitution and laws of the country, and his especial faithfulness in reproving wrong legislation, in selecting conscientious and efficient servants for the people and in reforming many abuses. The platform especially approves of the appointments to federal offices in Vermont, declaring the resolution relating thereto adopted by the recent Republican convention as not founded on fact. The platform also favors such a revision of the tariff that taxation shall not exceed the needs of the government, economically administered, and shall fall more heavily on luxuries and more lightly on the necessities of life. It demands the protection of the dairy and other interests of Vermont by laws preventing the adulteration of food and the sale of oleomargarine or any spurious butter. It declares the belief that property should be the principal basis of taxation, and that this burden should fall proportionally on all property taxed. The platform demands such legislation as shall make the poll tax one dollar instead of two. It declares in favor of the establishment of a railroad commission. It favors such legislation as shall control the traffic in intoxicating liquors and increase the revenue rather than the burden of taxation, and though opposed to sumptuary laws it demands enforcement of existing laws until they are repealed. It denounces the Republican party of Vermont for hypocrisy in enacting the liquor law which it will not enforce, and in embodying prohibition resolutions in its platform simply for the purpose of deceiving honest prohibitionists. The platform contains congratulations to the people of the State on its freedom of difficulties between capital and labor, but it favors any proper legislation tending to the settlement of such difficulties by arbitration and to a system of weekly payments for employes of corporations and manufactories.

The First District Democratic Congressional convention this afternoon nominated Waldo Brigham of Bakersfield for Congress. The Second District convention nominated H. E. Folsom of Lyndon for Congress.

THE CHICAGO OUTLAWS.

Further Evidence Convicting them of High Crimes.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Judge Gary's court room was crowded as usual this morning when M. P. Williamson, formerly a reporter for the Daily News was called to the stand. Mr. Williamson testified that he knew Parsons, Spies and Fielden, and on the night the new Board of Trade Building was opened the witness was detailed to follow the socialistic procession, which tramped through the down town streets. The procession broke up at the office of the Arbeiter Zeitung. Parsons was the first speaker. He called the police bloodhounds and servants of the robbing capitalists. He called the crowd to follow him and attack several clothing houses, Marshall Field's store being mentioned, and help themselves to what he termed "the necessities of life." Fielden said the same thing. He offered to lead the mob in the attack on the stores. Parsons was asked by the reporter why the Socialists did not march upon the Board of Trade Building and blow it up. He said the police prevented it. "Well, but your party have revolvers. What preparation further do you need?" asked Williamson. "The time has not not come yet. When the time does come we will meet the police with dynamite and bombs."

"When did he say the time would come?" "Some time during the year." The manner of warefare was to hurl bombs from the housetops and in that way they could annihilate any force of police or militia that could be assembled. This conversation took place with Parsons and Fielding standing by. Witness had attended meetings at 54 Lake street and heard Parsons and Fielden address crowds. Fielden on one occasion wanted the crowd to follow him to some store and get the necessities of life. Fielden advised the men to buy dynamite, saying that five cents' worth of dynamite was worth more than all the guns and revolvers in the Union.

Lieut. Shea, chief of detectives, was called. He was at the Arbeiter Zeitung office, May 5, after Spies had been arrested. The building was searched and all in it arrested. They found files of manuscript, type in forms and a quantity of dynamite, all of which were taken to the police headquarters. The witness identified a galley of type on which "Revenge" circulars was printed. Other witnesses took the stand who gave damaging evidence against the prisoners.

Oppressing Negroes in Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., July 22.—A deplorable state of affairs exists near Union, Newton County, about 70 miles east of here. A band of young whites styling themselves "the regulators," have issued a decree that no negro shall work on the farms in that vicinity. The band contains about 15 members and they have killed three negroes and wounded several others. Aperfect state of terror prevails and the entire county is greatly excited over the matter. Every one condemns the atrocious and bloody action, and is determined that every member of the band shall be made to answer for his crimes. Mr. J. McKelley was at Jackson yesterday to see the Governor and was told to arrest every one of the outlaws at all hazards. About 20 citizens, headed by officers armed with proper warrants, are after the desperadoes and their speedy capture is looked for.

ALBANY'S GALA DAY.

A Present Received From the Mother City in Holland.

President Cleveland and Members of the Cabinet Present.

The Chief Magistrate Received With Great Enthusiasm.

A Crank Follows the President About and is Arrested.

He Says He Meant No Harm But Wants an Office.

ALBANY, July 22.—One of the most interesting events of Albany's whole celebration, and one believed to be without a parallel in the history of the country—the presentation of a gift by the mother city in Europe to an American city colonized by it, occurred yesterday.

Dr. T. Blom Boster, deputy to represent officially the government of Holland and the city of Amsterdam, Chevalier T. Antonious Antonious DeJonge and Mr. Hermanus J. Coster, Jr., representing the University of Leyden, arrived in Albany Tuesday evening and were formally received by Mayor Thatcher. Yesterday they were escorted from their hotel, and, arriving at the City Hall, Dr. Coster, who is physician to the Queen of Holland, read in English the message from the Hague, as follows, in substsnce.

To the Worshipful Mayor and the Corporation of Albany:

We, the burgomaster and vethouders of The Hague, tender our hearty greetings on the feast that the city of Albany celebrates in honor of the day on which, 200 years ago, she by charter gained the privileges of a city. We rejoice at the continually increasing prosperity which your city has experienced since that time, and wish it a long and bright future. It fills us with deep gratitude that you acknowledge how the character of your ancestors and their principles may have contributed to form the foundation on which succeeding generations have built your grand republic, attributing to them the handing down to posterity of its great blessing—independence and freedom. This conviction finds us, like you, emulating our common forefather's, hearty and warm sympathy, and draws closer the ties of love and veneration which link us to your noble republic, whose greatness and prosperity is our most cordial wish.

Dr. Coster then presented the mayor with the original parchment, on which the message of congratulation was handsomely engrossed in Dutch. Then, on behalf of Amsterdam, he presented the mayor with five handsome vellum bound volumes and 50 photographs (4 by 2 feet) of the city, sent by that city to Albany as a memorial. Mayor Thatcher acknowledged the gifts in behalf of the city.

The arrival of President Cleveland was the first important event of today at Albany. The time fixed for his coming was 6 o'clock this morning. Before that hour the Burgess corps, under command of Major Van Zandt, with the Pittsburg band at their head, marched to the West Shore depot and drew up in line in readiness for the arrival of the train. Carriages containing Mayor Thatcher, ex-Mayor Band other city officials were also in waiting. Outside the lines formed by the militia stood five or six hundred citizens. A few minutes after six o'clock the train arrived. Mayor Thatcher and ex-Mayor Banks and several of the anniversary committee boarded the train and exchanged greetings with the President. Mayor Thatcher, on behalf of the city, bade him welcome and warmly thanked him for coming from Washington to join them in celebrating the anniversary of Albany's natal day. The President greeted his friends warmly and said that it gave him pleasure to be with them again. Secretaries Bayard and Whitney and private Secretary Lamont accompanied the President.

The Burgess corps acting as escort at once took up the line of march and the Presidential party were at once driven to Governor Hill's mansion where the host received them. Having discharged their duty to the President the Burgess corps next welcomed the veteran corps of the 7th regiment of New York and marched to the armory.

Every arriving train and boat this morning brought in new uniformed companies to take part in the grand military parade of the day.

After the Governor and his guests had breakfasted President Cleveland accompanied by Col. Lamont, went to Secretary Manning's residence to call upon him. Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Manning remained in conversation together for an hour and the former returned to the Governor's mansion.

At 10.30, escorted by Mayor Thatcher and members of the anniversary reception committee, the President, Secretaries Bayard and Whitney and Col. Lamont left the Executive mansion and entering carriages were driven down State street to take their places in the procession. A few minutes later Governor Hill escorted by members of the reception committee were also driven down to take his place in the line.

When Gov. Hill had concluded his speech and the applause had subsided Mayor Thatcher attempted to announce the next thing on the programme, but his voice was drowned by cries of "Cleveland." "Cleveland." The President arose, bowed, and sat down again in his chair in the centre of the platform beside of Gov. Hill. This did not satisfy the audience, however, and the calls were renewed with added vigor. Finally he arose and advancing to the front of the platform thanked the people for the kindness of their reception and referred pleasantly to the courteous manner in which he had always been treated by the citizens of Albany. His remarks were enthusiastically cheered. Secretary Bayard and Secretary Whitney being called on also responded very briefly, expressing gratification at the welcome given them in Albany. At the conclusion of the exercises President Cleveland, Secretaries Whitney and Bayard and Ex-Mayor Banks drove to Secretary Manning's residence, where they remained about an hour. They then drove to the Governor's residence where they dined with the Governor at 6.30.

In the evening the fireworks were set off at Washington Park and the Governor and President Cleveland held a public reception in the Senate chambers and afterwards at the Fort Orange club. At 11.20 the Presidential party left for Washington by special train.

When the President was receiving the public in the Senate Chamber a man with a swarthy face, short black side whiskers, and black mustache, and shabbily dresred, in a well worn light suit of clothes was noticed hovering about the President. Finally he stealthily crept up behind him. The police had been noticing his movements and at this juncture he was arrested and taken out of the room, when the attention of the President and those who accompanied him were drawn to the man they remembered he had been hovering about him all the afternoon. The man protested against being arrested, but was led off to the Second Precinct station house. There he was searched, but no weapons were found on him. In his pockets were six dollars in bills and some small change. He said his name was Nathan Schuler, 28 years old, and lived in Kingston, N. Y. When asked why he had followed the President about, he said that when Cleveland was candidate for President he introduced his name in various towns and cities throughout the State and spoke to the people for him. He thought he deserved a political position and as he was a poor man he wanted to better himself. He thought if the President knew what he had done for him he would give him a position. He was only watching for an opportunity to speak to him. The police decided to lock the man up until the President was out of Albany.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Convention at Worcester—Fourth Day.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 22.—The Knights of Labor began their fourth day's session at 9 o'clock and continued until long after the noon hour. They took no recess, hoping to reach a final one by 2 o'clock. They considered the petition of the barbers of Boston for a change in the law which requires a barbers' assembly to be composed of three journeymen to one boss barber. They want the change made so that an equal number of bosses and journeymen can belong to the same union. The matter was deferred, The convention voted to request the national convention to enact a law making ineligible any instructor of labor in any State prison. There is a strong feeling among certain leaders, but no rupture has yet occurred. Many delegates went home last night, but there is still a large number on hand.

The convention adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, Ireland is struggling with all her powers to get a form of government; therefore.

Resolved, That we, the D. A. No. 30, Knights of Labor of Massachusetts Assembly, at Worcester, July 19, 1886, extend the fraternal hand of greeting to Parnell and all those who are laboring to raise poor, down-trodden Ireland to a higher condition of life and liberty.

Resolved, That the Executive Board of D. A. 30 be directed to prepare and send to each L. A. in this district a circular setting forth those questions concerning the labor cause that will be brought to the attention of the Legislature the coming year, and we pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to have all such laws enacted as will advance the principles of our noble order by supporting only those who will pledge themselves to vote on the side of the laboring classes, first, last and all the time.

Be it resolved, in convention assembled, that we, delegates of District Assembly No. 30, do hereby protest against the check system about to be inaugurated by the Appleton & Hamilton Manufacturing Company of Lowell, Mass., as against the best interests of the employes.

Great Preparations for the Coming Encampment at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—This city is all alive with preparations for the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic that is to begin there in two weeks. No efforts are being spared to have the programme of civic entertainment on a scale that will favorably interpret Pacific slope hospitality to the Eastern mind. The decoration committee have all their plans arranged, and when they are completed the city will have on a holiday attire never before equalled. The grand arch which is to span Market street at the Bancroft building, will be eighty feet high. At each side will be a smaller arch over the sidewalks. On each of the towers of the arch will be flag poles, and surmounting the main arch at the centre, will be an immense spread eagle, 35 feet from tip to tip. At the west side of the arch, in niches of the t

PORTLAND PUBLISHING CO.,
PORTLAND, ME.

The new extradition treaty does not take effect until ratified by the Senate. That will probably be some time yet, so the defaulters may take things more leisurely.

The Argus talks about Col. Edwards's "masterly skill" as a commander. That will make the boys of his regiment laugh right out.

It is said that the young men of Atlanta have organized an anti-prohibition society, with grips, signs and passwords. If their object is to evade the laws they will do well to take care that their conspiracy is not detected.

The first of the new cruisers, the Atlanta, has been put in commission. The United States navy now has one modern vessel. The Atlanta is as good as any man of war of the kind; and is very well adapted to the needs of the country.

There is much surprise at Washington that the new treaty has been made public. The explanation is undoubtedly to be found in the fact that a portion of the United States Senate have seen the document. The trials of secret sessions have so demoralized that body that a Senator can keep a secret about as well as a school girl.

Lord Randolph Churchill is hurrying to London to see that no "old fogies" get places in the new cabinet. If Lord Randolph succeeds in getting a cabinet after his own heart, there will be stirring times in England. The young lord, himself has favored both home rule and coercion, and can make a change of position with the facility of a weather-cock.

The Belfast Age advises the Prohibitionists of the Second district to nominate Mr. Ladd for Congress. It says he is conceded to be a "square, thorough prohibitionist." How a man can be a "square, thorough prohibitionist" and accept the nomination of a party that declares in its platform opposition to all sumptuary laws is a mystery which the Age should reveal.

The attempt to get up a laboring man's convention to nominate a distinct labor candidate for Congress in the Second district appears to have proved a complete fizzle. No labor reformers of any prominence took part in it, and its principal manager was a Rockland office holder. It was so evident, even to the men who were there, that the thing was a failure that no attempt was made to put a candidate in the field.

By forbidding private secretaries of government officials to be members of civil service examining boards the Civil Service Commissioners have given Collector Hedden a terrible set back. Mr. Hedden had a civil service machine all set up and in running order, the crank of which was turned by his private Secretary. It ground out very few but Democrats, and Democrats of a particular stripe, too. This machine is now demolished.

The Belfast Age considers the retention of $1,000,000 in gold to redeem the greenbacks as simply "an expiring effort to keep up the distinction between gold and other money which is now substantially abolished." The Age is wrong. The effect of the $100,000,000 reserve is just the opposite. It practically does away with the distinction between gold and greenbacks. Let it be removed and the distinction between gold and greenbacks will become painfully apparent to the holders of the latter very soon.

The House fixed the tax on olemargarine at 5 cents a pound. The Senate has reduced it to two. The only object in taxing it at all is to get rid of it just as the old States banks were got rid of. If a tax of two cents a pound will so increase the cost of the article that it cannot be sold as low as dairy butter and yield a profit the purpose of the friends of the bill is subserved. But if manufacturers can pay the tax and still compete with the dairy butter makers, substantially nothing will be accomplished but to put some additional revenue into the treasury that is not needed.

It would simplify matters greatly if Senator Payne would rise up and demand an investigation of the means by which he came into possession of a seat in the Senate. Of course the Senate would not refuse to make the investigation when demanded by him. To be sure no charges of corruption are made against Mr. Payne personally, but some of his relatives are under a cloud on his account, and he ought to ask the investigation on their account, if not his own. Possibly, however, Mr. Payne has a suspicion that an investigation would not improve their reputation, and hesitates to ask it for that reason.

It is to be regretted that Mr. John Boyle O'Reilly has expressed himself in such vigorous terms against the new extradition treaty. "I regard the treaty," he says, "as drafted and signed by our minister in London, as an abominable document, which I do not believe the Senate will pass, and which, I trust, will relegate theSecretary of State to the private position which his performance of his public duty has earned for him." His objection to the treaty is that it will deny an asylum to Irish patriots who may have incurred the displeasure of England. But the treaty expressly exempts political offences; and the Irishman who strives against the English government may find this a land of refuge in the future as in the past. But the blowing up of a building, a squad of police, or company of people, is not a political offence. It is a crime, and the men who do it should be harbored by no nation. Men like O'Donovan Rossa, Spies and Fielden do not rise above the condition of the lowest criminals, merely because they presume to justify their course by professing a wish to free a nation or elevate a class.

SALISBURY'S TASK.

Mr. Gladstone has resigned, and the Marquis of Salisbury has undertaken the work of forming a new ministry. The Marquis seems disposed to leaven it with the Duke of Argyle and Mr. Goschen to make it more palatable to the Liberal-Unionists, on whom it must partly depend for existence, but that rigid old Tory, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, wants a straight Tory cabinet. The Marquis of Salisbury evidently has a job before him which will cause him many wakeful nights before he completes it satisfactorily. But with the construction of a cabinet his misery just begins. He must also construct a government for Ireland. Coercion of the old sort will probably not secure a majority of the House. The Liberal-Unionists have avowed their belief in the home rule principle, and they cannot without a disgraceful sacrifice of consistency vote for a revival of the old plan of governing Ireland. On the other hand the Tories, flushed with victory, are not likely to consent to any substantial concessions to the followers of Parnell. Undoubtedly they share the feelings of their leader as expressed in his now famous words, "If Irishmen do not want to be governed by England, let them emigrate," and are not disposed to grant any substantial amount of home rule. Mr. Gladstone undertook to frame a bill for the government of Ireland which should satisfy the Parnellites and the Liberals, and failed. Now it devolves upon the Marquis of Salisbury to frame one that shall satisfy the Tories and the Liberal-Unionists. It probably is not quite so difficult a task as the grand old man undertook to perform, but it is by no means an easy one. Possibly the Marquis is equal to it. The future will decide, but the present outlook is not very bright.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A TIME FOR DISAPPEARING.
Boston Transcript.

The morning papers record the disappearance of a Baltimore oysterman with from $30,000 to $35,000 of other people's money; of a clothing dealer from Ansonia, Conn., with the resultant failure of his house; and of a clergyman from Norridgewock, Me. One might be warranted in thinking that this "is the time for disappearing."

DEMOCRATIC LONGEVITY.
Sam Jones in Missouri.

One Democrat in this State says he would rather see whiskey running ankle deep all over the State and dippers hanging on every limb in the State, rather than see the Democratic party die. My! My! There's one thing I told them the other day—the old Democratic buzzard can look over a drowned world and say: "I live on," and you know a buzzard is the only kind of animal that wants to live on after everything else is dead.

HOLDING THE FORT.
Biddeford Journal.

After repeated announcements that Mr. Geo. F. Emery of Portland was certain to be appointed successor to Cap'n Chase as Collector of Internal Revenue there, it is now said that the President will renominate Chase, which goes to show how little anybody knows about the matter. One fact is indisputable, however: the Tabulator still holds the fort, notwithstanding that, by a vote of the United States Senate months ago, he was pronounced unfit for the position. Civil service reform must be carried out at all hazards.

WIVES FROM AMERICA.

Our Countrywomen Who Have Been Captured by Titled Foreigners.

Philadelphia Times.

Philadelphia and New York have furnished a goodly number of wives to titled Europeans. The Marchioness de Ganay of Paris, was Miss Ridgway, of Philadelphia, and she inherits her mother's grace and beauty. Miss Lynch, of Philadelphia, is Countess de Kessler, and occupies the public attention by the splendor of her fetes in Paris.

A daughter of Henry McCall, well-known in this city, became Countess von Driesbach, and Baroness de Bildt was Miss Bloomfield Moore. Count Galli, long Italian Consul in Philadelphia, married one of its fairest daughters, Miss Roberts, and Countess Sodozoni was Miss Stokes of the same city.

In 1880 Miss McAllister, of Philadelphia, was married by Cardinal Manning to Count Giuseppe Holchi-Vici. When the Marquis d'Vrujo was Spanish Minister at Washington, he married Miss McKean, daughter of a Governor of Pennsylvania, and about the same time Count Borralha, of Portugal, married Miss Orne, of Philadelphia.

A daughter of G. P. Healy, the celebrated artist, married M. Charles Bigot, a French writer. Madame Bigot has just received a prize from the French Academy for a work she has recently written.

The Baroness de Charette, of Paris, wife of Gen. de Charette, ex-commander of the Pope's Zouaves, was Miss Polk, of Tennessee. The mother of the general was the Countess de Vierzon, daughter of the Duke de Berry, and he is thus the nephew of the Count de Chambord. The Marchioness de Talleyrand-Perrigord, daughter-in-law of the Duke de Dino, was Miss Curtis, of New York. The opinions of the marquis, notwithstanding his rank, are decidedly republican, and only a few days ago he gave a dinner to Henri Rochefort and Clemenceau. The wife of Clemenceau was Miss Plummer, of Greenwich, Conn.

The Viscountess de Courval was Miss Ray, of New York, daughter of one of the greatest landed proprietors in the United States. The Viscountess de Cotlogon was Miss Blake, of Boston, and Miss Mary Jones, of New York, became the Countess de Trobriand. The latter is celebrated for her entertainments, which are arranged on a magnificent scale. Perhaps one of the finest soirees of the season was that given in her beautiful home the evening of June 14. Count de Trobriand, it will be remembered, distinguished himself in the rebellion and became a general in the Federal army. The de Trobriands, of which family he is chief, have for generations been the pillars of Brittany.

The Duchess de Choiseul-Braslin was Miss Forbes, of New York, and the Countess de la Bossiere-Mazarin, Miss Dunlop, of Kentucky. Miss Stephens, of New York, became Countess de Chevigny, and the Marquis d'Autau has just married Miss Norma Christmas, of Washington.

Miss Norman Kimpson, of Connecticut, is now the Baroness de Salvador, and the Marquis de Mores, who will some day be Duke de Vallambrosa, married Miss Van Hoffman, of New York.

Col. des Pallieres, brother of the famous General of that name, married Miss Brega, of New York, and Miss King, of the same city, became Mme. Waddington, wife of the French Ambassador to the Court of St James.

Countess de Montauban was Miss Butterfield, of New York, and Countess Bauxhawden, Miss McKnight, of New Jersey.

The Countess Lepelletier d'Aunay is a daughter of Gen. Berdan, the inventor of sharp-shooting rifles, and the Princess Poniatouski, a daughter of Mr. Ely Goddard, of New York. The Countess de Narbonne and the Marchioness de Gabriac were the Misses Phelan, of the same city. The Countess de Vaule was Miss Dillon, of St. Louis, and Countess Sala, wife of the Charge d'Affairs at Washington, was Miss Sanford of New York.

Two famous Southern beauties—the Misses Slidell—married Baron Emile d'Erlanger and Count de St. Romans. Miss Meigges, of Washington, became the Countess de Neffray. The late Baroness de Brimone was Miss Penniman, of New York, the Marchioness de Chasseloup-Laubat and the Baroness de Hirsch were the Misses Pilie, of the same city. Baroness de Pierre and Countess de Fusac were the Misses Thorne, of Sixteenth street, New York.

Madame de Stuers, wife of the Dutch Minister in Paris, belongs to the Astor family. The Dutch Minister at the Court of Italy, Mr. Westernberg, while he was Charge d'Affaires at Washington, married the sister of Mrs. Schuyler. Baroness von Schraeder was Miss Donohue of San Francisco, and the daughter of Admiral Dahlgren married Baron von Overbeck.

Baroness von Glumer was Miss Bartlett of New York, and the Misses Hutton, of the same city, became Marchioness de Porte and Countess de Moltke-Heitfeldt. Countess Orcolo was Miss Mortimer, of New York, and Countess von Linden, Miss Loring-Andrews, of the same city. Madame von Arnoldi was Miss Moir, of Chicago, and Miss Parsons, of Ohio, is Princess de Lynar. The former is the wife of a brilliant German officer, the latter of a Bavarian diplomat.

Miss Wheelwright of New York, is now Baroness von Friedlander; Miss Day, of Ohio, Baroness Lagerfeldt, and Mme. Bakhmetieff, wife of the Charge d'Affaires of Russia at Athens, was Miss Beale of Washington. Miss Moulton became Baroness von Hagermann, and her daughter has just married one of the wealthiest barons of Denmark.

The Marchioness Torreggiani, of Italy, was Miss Fry, a niece of Gen. McClellan. A daughter of Mr. Hamilton Walker of New York became Countess Cibo, and Miss Gillender of the same city, married the Marquis de San Marzano. The wife of Baron Blanc, formerly Italian Minister at Washington, was Miss Ferry of New York, one of that city's greatest heiresses; Miss Davis became Duchess Lante. The daughter of Dr. Hammond, of New York, married the Marquis de Lunza, and Miss Chisholm, Count Leonetti.

Miss Eva Bryan-Mackay was married last year to Don Ferdinando Colonna, Prince di Galatro. The daughters of Mr. Jonas Fisher, of New York, are Countess Jacques d'Aramon of Paris, and Countess Gherardeschi of Florence.

Miss Field of New York, who married Prince di Triggiano-Brancaccio, occupies the first floor of the Ruspoli Palace, in Pome, although the Prince is a Neapolitan. Princess Brancaccio is maid of honor to Queen Margaret, and at the opening of Parliament last week the American Princess, who is a black-eyed blonde, received the Queen as she entered the royal tribune. One of the Ruspoli princes, Don Emanuele, married a few weeks ago, Miss Curtis of the Marchioness Talleyrand-Perigord of Paris.

A lady-in-waiting to the Queen of Italy is Princess Vicarera-Cenci, who was Miss Lorillard Spencer of New York. Miss Kinney, of the same city, married Count Giannotti, first aide-de-camp to King Humbert. Marchioness Theodolt was Miss Conrad. The Theodolis are noted for their fidelity to the Pope.

Miss Williams, of Georgetown, became the wife of a Russian Minister, Baron de Bodisco, and Countess de la Torre was Miss Haigdt of New York.

Miss McLaw of Staten Island became the Marchioness Calderon de Barla of Spain, and Countess de Sanza de Lobo, of Portugal was Miss Allen of New York.

The wife of Sir Thomas Hesketh is a daughter of ex-Senator Sharon of San Francisco, and Lady Randolph Churchill a daughter of Mr. Leonard Jerome. The two sisters of the latter are married—one to Mr. Frewen who belongs to a noble English family, and the other to Mr. Leslie, heir to a baronetcy. Miss Consuelo Yzuaga del Valle, of New York, married Lord George Montagu, Viscount Mandeville, son of the Duke of Manchester. Her sister is Lady Kaye. Miss Hamilton of San Francisco, became Lady Sidney Waterlow, and the daughter of Mrs. Paran Stevens married Capt. Paget. The daughters of John Lothrop Motley, the historian, are Lady Vernon-Harcourt, Hon. Mrs. Mildway and Mrs. Brinsley-Sheridan.

A daughter of Mr. Samuel Russell of Boston married Rt. Hon. Sir Lyon Playfair, and Lady Playfair spends nearly every summer at Newport. Miss Van Ness, sister of Mrs. James Roosevelt of New York, became Lady Gor-Ousley, and Lady Michael Wolseley was Miss Murphy of San Francisco.

A daughter of David Dudley Field is the wife of Sir Anthony Musgrave, and Lady Grantley was Miss Kitty McVikers, of New York.

The Marchioness of Anglesey was Miss King of Georgia, and Mrs. Algernon Sartoris is the daughter of Gen. Grant. In a short time Miss Minnie Smith, sister of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, will become the wife of Count Moroni of Italy.

PERSONAL AND PECULIAR.

It is reported that Gail Hamilton has been offered an editorial position on the Chicago Current.

Boycotting has been declared a crime in three States—New York, Wisconsin and Connecticut.

The wife of an Albany Democrat is seeking a divorce on the ground that he has failed to make an averave of 70 in a civil service examination.

The famous Mother Bickerdyke, the head nurse of the Sanitary Commission during the late war, is the guest of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore at Melrose, Mass. Mrs. Livermore was a co-worker in the same cause.

Sunday base ball playing is forbidden at Cincinnati under penalty of a fine of $2. The teams play every Sunday, and the gate money amounts to hundreds of dollars. The players are arrested and brought into court Monday, plead guilty and pay their little fines with great cordiality.

John C. Eno, the fugitive New York banker, pays $2000 house rent at Quebec, which for that place is enormous. His house at Beauvoir is one of the finest in the suburbs. Financially he appears to be at ease. He drives good horses and is liberal with his money, but socially he is not known. Neither he nor his wife is ever invited out, nor are they visited by society people.

A controversy now going on between the editors of the New York World and the Star of the same city shows how much dignity there is in metropolitan journalism. Editor Pulitzer of the World calls Editor Dorsheimer of the Star "a Brobdingnagian mass of obesity." Editor Dorsheimer of the Star thus described Editor Pulitzer of the World: "A deep Charybdis yawns beneath his ragged beard, and from the fanged and lurid chasm comes a clammy hiss such as the horned frog utters when at bay."

Dr. Alfred R. Wallace, the naturalist, will arrive in this country the last of October. He will give eight lectures in the Lowell Institute, and will spend most of the winter in the United States. Dr. Wallace's explorations in the Eastern Archipelago and on the Amazon are among the most valuable contributions to scientific knowledge of the age, and to him nearly as much as to Darwin is due the discovery and proof of the theory of evolution.

General Sheridan says he is delighted with his new experience as a suburban farmer. Instead of sending his wife and children to a crowded seaside hotel or fashionable resort, this year, he rented a thirty-acre farm near Washington, where he picks his own peas, digs his own potatoes, and enjoys freedom from intrusion, which has to be endured good naturedly at watering-places. The general drives in every morning and returns in the afternoon. The enjoyment of seeing his children loving Mother Earth, he says, is far more happiness to him than he has ever experienced at all the fashionable resorts.

Last April, during the great strike on the Missouri Pacific, a freight train was wrecked near Wyandotte depot, and two men were killed, a fireman and a brakeman. An examination showed that the train had been deliberately wrecked; and while it was suspected that the work had been done by strikers, there was no clue to the identity of the men. But last week six men were arrested for the crime. The case was worked up by a detective who passed as a Knight of Labor and secured a confession from one of the men concerned.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Proverbs from the Talmud:
Have friends or die.
A woman spins and talks.
He who has no wife is no man.
If your wife is little, bend to her.
Among the thorns the rose blooms.
A woman's wisdom is in the spindle.
The myrtle among the thorns is a myrtle still.
Take a wife from beneath, a friend from above you.
With her foot in the grave a woman clings to vanity.
If your friend be deaf when you call, turn your back on him.
Be the goat white, be the goat black so she gives good milk.
Ten measures of talk were sent down from Heaven, and woman took nine.
Where cabbages are plentiful, there take them to market.
Take a straw to Es-ravim (where straw is exceedingly plentiful) is one of the oldest Jewish proverbs extant.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

An Indian chief who is visiting Washington at government expense was introduced to a Senator recently who had a very bald head.

The chief looked at him for some moments evidently with a great deal of interest. Finally he said:

"Ugh! Where was it you fight Injun some time?"

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

"See here," said a back country farmer, as he entered a restaurant the other day, "I don't like the way I have been used."

"What's wrong?" asked the restaurateur.

"Last March I bought a can of oysters here."

"Yes I remember."

"When I took it home my wife suggested that we put it away down cellar for Fourth of July. When we opened it on the glorious Fourth—"

"Great Scots!"

"Yes, you'd have said great Scots and little Scots and all other sorts of Scots. You said they were fresh oysters, and I took your word for it and paid 40 cents in cash."

The restaurateur counted out 40 cents, placed the change in the man's hand, and motioned him to go out.

"Thankee," said the farmer as he backed out, "you are a square man, and I told my wife that you were probably deceived in the oysters yourself. One of my neighbors said he smelt 'em seven miles down the road. Thankee—this is k'rect."

Why don't you try Carter's Little Liver Pills? They are a positive cure for sick headache, and all the ills produced by disordered Liver. Only one pill a dose.

The papers still relate anecdotes of Liszt. He once asked Verdi for a letter of introduction to Rossini, which was given. The author of William Tell received the Abbe in the most friendly manner, and asked him to play one of his compositions or any other favorite piece. Liszt sat at the piano and thumped until exhausted.

"What is that?" asked Rossini.

"A funeral march I composed on the death of Meyerbeer. What do you think of it, Mayestro?"

"Not bad. Only it would have been much better had you died and Meyerbeer written the music."

PROF. CHS. LUDWIG VON SEEGER,

Professor of Medicine at the Royal University; Knight of the Royal Austrian Order of the Iron Crown; Knight Commander of the Royal Spanish Order of Isabella; Knight of the Royal Prussian Order of the Red Eagle; Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, &c., &c., says:

"LIEBIG CO'S COCA BEEF TONIC should not be confounded with the horde of trashy cure pills. It is in no sense of the word a patent remedy. I am thoroughly conversant with its mode of preparation and know it to be not only a legitimate pharmaceutical product, but also worthy of the high commendations it has received in all parts of the world. It contains essence of Beef, Coca, Quinine, Iron and Calisaya, which are dissolved in pure genuine Spanish Imperial Crown Sherry."

Invaluable to all who are Run Down, Nervous, Dyspeptic, Bilious, Malarious or afflicted with weak kidneys. Beware of Imitations.

Hull Yacht Club.

The programme of the annual cruise of the Hull (Mass.) Yacht Club to begin Saturday, July 31st, has not yet been officially acted upon, but the following has been suggested and meets with much favor: Start Saturday morning and sail to Marblehead, where yachts of the Corinthian Yacht Club will join the cruise; sail in the afternoon to Rockport and have a reception there in the evening; spend Sunday in a ride to points on Cape Ann; sail in the open regatta of the Sandy Bay Yacht Club Monday, and in the evening have a ladies' reception; sail Tuesday for Isles of Shoals, and rendezvous Friday night at Portland, where the captains will decide whether or not to go farther East. It is expected that a large number of yachts will join the cruise. Among the club's fleet are the sloop Carmen, Vice Commodore D. L. M. Tower; sloop Hera, Vice Commodore George R. Howe; schooner Alice, W. L. Lockhart; sloop Nimbus, J. J. Souther; schooner Winona, B. F. Horsford; sloop Rambler, J. J. Henry; schooner Widgeon, A. S. Wattles; sloop Sea Bird, C. L. Joy; cat Mabel, G. R. Howe; sloop Viston, A. J. Watson; sloop Posy, R. G. Hunt; the Gevalin, Fearless, Adrienne, Mr. Lancaster; and the white schooner yacht Sachem, built by Lawley after Mr. Edward Burgess's plans, and as handsome a craft as has been seen for a long time. She has the same handsome stern as the Mayflower and Puritan and resembles them closely in form, although looking smaller by reason of her rig.

The Lewiston Marketmen.

The date of the Lewiston marketmen's annual excursion to Peaks island has been definitely fixed for Aug. 11, providing that arrangements can be made in time, of which there is little doubt. The market men will not, this year, wear their usual "parade uniform" of white frock, but will content themselves with a badge. The committee are trying to arrange a ball game between their nine and a nine of Lewiston and Auburn lawyers, which will be an interesting feature if it can be brought about. The party will come 1,500 strong.

BRIEF JOTTINGS.

After the shower yesterday the temperature advanced decidedly.

Thatcher Relief Corps will have a picnic at Long Island on Tuesday next.

The steam yacht Ibis of Boston was in the harbor yesterday, and also several small sailing vessels.

The Gospel Mission Sunday School and friends went to Diamond Island by steamer Isis yesterday.

The annual picnic of the Cumberland Bar will be held at the Ottawa House, Cushing's Island, next Thursday.

C. O. Wheeler, of Cambridge, Mass., and B. L. Coombs of Dorchester, on their wheels, arrived at Portland yesterday.

A lady's long brown kid glove was picked up yesterday, corner of Pearl and Cumberland streets, which can be found at the PRESS counting room.

The Universalist parish of Stevens' Plains made an excursion to Peaks Island by steamer Express yesterday morning. There were about 200 persons in the party.

Officers Harmon and Skillings secured a lot of lager under the old Commercial House yesterday, and Officer Massure seized a basket full at Stafford block.

Preparations are being made for the departure of the war vessels. Yesterday on the Tennessee the crew were employed in getting the ship into sailing trim.

Among the passengers on the 6.45 trip of the steamer Mary W. Libby yesterday morning, was an English sparrow, which hopped on board the boat at Portland and flew off when it reached Peaks Island.

The North Jay Granite Company have purchased the interests of Payson Tucker, Geo. W. Wagg and James H. Emery in the granite quarry at North Jay. The consideration named in the deed is $200,000.

A young French lad was given a night's lodging at Saccarappa Wednesday, and repaid the kindness by stealing a suit of clothes from his host and making off with it yesterday morning.

The Orthodox Congregational church at Sebago Lake had a delightful social reunion at Pavilion Hall Wednesday evening. A most agreeable evening was spent, and $34.12 realized.

Three young men who arrived yesterday morning caught two large swordfish, weighing over 400 pounds apiece, off Cape Elizabeth, Wednesday, which they sold here for $86.49; a large price.

Wednesday evening, after the gates were lowered at the Spring street crossing at Woodford's, while the Flying Yankee and an eastern bound train were passing, two females walked under the gates and barely escaped being run over by the engine.

For five years past Mr. E. M. Lang has been contending in the courts for the validity of his patent for steel capping. Yesterday he received a despatch containing the news that his rights to said patent have been fully sustained.

At the store of Frank T. Littlefield may be seen the gold epaulettes worn by the late Gen. Abner Bourne Thompson while Adjutant General of the State during the Aroostook war. They were worn by his son who was a captain in the Union army.

An excursion numbering about 200 persons came by the Maine Central railroad from Hallowell, Augusta, Bowdoinham, and other towns, to Portland yesterday morning. They embarked on the steamer Forest City at Custom House wharf, and at 9.30 o'clock arrived at Peaks Island. Then the Hallowell band formed in front of the Peaks' Island House and played a march, after which the excursionists scattered over the island, each seeking pleasure in his own way. The party returned at 4.15 p. m.

PERSONAL.

Rear Admiral Luce will return to Portland Saturday.

Senator McPherson of New Jersey, is at Phillips, Me.

Prof. A. W. Small of Colby University, is passing a few days in Portland.

Duncomb and wife, Iowa, were among the guests at the Falmouth Hotel last night.

ALL ABOARD.

The Maine Delegation, G. A. R., Off for 'Frisco.

The Grand Army excursion train for California left the Boston & Maine railroad station at 9.10 a. m. yesterday. It consisted of four Pullman drawing room cars—the Phaeton, Oceanic, Conewaga and Cataract—three regular passenger coaches and a baggage car. The train was drawn by the Boston & Maine locomotive Colonel Colman, Frank Tomms, engineer. The first car bore a wide strip of canvas running its whole length, with the words, "Maine G. A. R. to California."

Prior to the start the station was crowded with the friends of the excursionists, especially members of the Grand Army who were unable to make the trip and desired to bid those who could go bon voyage. Numbers of gifts were presented to enable the travelers to bear with greater ease the discomforts of a long railway route. A number of gentlemen who board their horses at Alderman Sawyer's stable presented him with ten ten dollar gold pieces and a ten dollar bill, in all $110, to invest in 'Frisco mementoes for himself and wife. Besides the battle flag of the 2d Maine taken by Dr. Hamlin, there were carried the flags of the 1st, 5th and 13th Maine Regiments, the flag of the 19th Corps headquarters, that of the Sedgwick Corps, and Bosworth Post of Portland.

H. A. Maloon and wife of East Machias were added to the party yesterday.

One man found there was some mistake about his berth in a Pullman car, and was so angry he left the train at Cape Elizabeth station and walked to Portland, giving up the expedition.

Last night's Advertiser said: "The names of the people who are really going to the National Encampment of the Grand Army were published in the Advertiser last evening. The additional names printed in the morning papers are the names of people who at one time thought of going, but finally decided to stay at home."

The Advertiser is mistaken. The list which appeared in yesterday's PRESS was carefully examined and acknowledged correct by Department Commander Lane (who had the charge of the whole business) on Wednesday afternoon.

The cars were furnished by the Pennsylvania railroad and go through to 'Frisco without change.

Amusement Notes.

Tom Blossom in "May Blossom," will be played the coming season by Otis Turner, who rejoices in the sobriquet Ben Maginley, Jr.

The company to support Louis James and Marie Wainright will include among others, F. C. Moseley, E. L. Tilton, Fred Huebner, G. D. Fawsett, Fritz Williams, Miss Kate Meek, Kitty Wilson, Mary Wheeler and E. Y. Backus.

Mr. Frank Mayo is revising the "Three Guardsmen," and will alternate it with "Nordeck," the coming season. The spectacular effects in the present version will be maintained, but no new ones sought after and Mr. Mayo is selecting his company with a special view to the requirements of the piece.

"Nancy & Co.," the greatest success of Augustin Daly's last season will be produced on the road by Arthur Rehan's company. They will transport the scenery entire and all the bric-a-brac and furniture for the second act, which is supposed to take place in the Windsor Hotel, New York.

Killed by a Locomotive.

As No. 8 Lewiston train, which leaves this city at noon for Lewiston, was just this side of Auburn station yesterday afternoon, a man was seen walking by the side of the track. The train was rounding a curve when the man was sighted and he was but a short distance from it on the left hand side. All at once the man stepped in front of the engine and was instantly killed. The engineer was ringing the bell at the time, and had grasped the cord to blow the whistle, and was about to set the air brakes, but the whole affair occurred so suddenly and unexpectedly that all efforts were useless. Conductor Stone left a brakeman in charge of the body and procured assistance in Lewiston and kindly tendered the use of a wagon to bring the remains to that city.

The unfortunate man's name was John Bream of Lewiston. The coroner's jury, after hearing the evidence, found no blame attached to the employes of the road.

The Fryeburg Assembly.

The preparations for the coming Sunday School assembly and Chautauqua Union at the Fryeburg grounds are being rapidly pushed to a conclusion. The picnic auditorium seating from 1200 to 1500 is now completed. The Boston & Lowell railroad has advertised special rates along its lines as well as the Portland & Ogdensburg, Boston & Maine, Maine Central and the International boat line. Persons from as far west as Michigan have written, expressing a purpose to be present. Dr. Vincent thinks no assembly ever opened its first year with a more brilliant programme. Rev. A. E. Dunning, Mrs. Livermore, Edward Everett Hale, Dr. Hill, Dr. Cyrus Hamlin, Mrs. Crofts and Mr. Blaine are sufficient to make any programme attractive. Reports from the managers at Fryeburg last night indicate that the assembly will open next Tuesday evening with a good attendance and that the grounds will be crowded before the close of the assembly.

The Temperance Campmeeting.

The trains will leave for the campmeeting at Lake Sebago tomorrow at 8.35 a. m., 12.40 p. m., and return at 4.15 and 7.10 p. m. Saturday will be an interesting day for the children as the exercises have been arranged so as to give them fine music and plenty of time for recreation. Two large bands have been especially engaged.

Sunday trains will leave Portland at 9 and 10 a. m. The reformed men will have in the forenoon a large number of their ablest speakers from different parts of the State. Volney B. Cushing will deliver a sermon at 1 p. m. He will be followed by able speakers. The I. O. G. T. will have charge of the afternoon meeting, M. J. Dow, G. W. C. T., presiding. Mrs. Ada Cary Sturgis, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bent, and other musicians will aid in the musical exercises.

Merry Portland Girls.

The Old Orchard Rambler says: A company of seven young ladies from Portland, all smart, witty and pretty, arrived at the beach this morning for a two weeks' sojourn, Like the Posie club they are here for a good time and are keeping house themselves. The young ladies are rusticating at Mr. B. M. Eastman's place on Evergreen avenue—the "Merry Mansion." These clubs are destined to become a very popular feature at Old Orchard, and surely a very pleasant one. The following are the names: Carrie I. Eastman, Mabel Morris, Sadie Haley, Jennie Chase, Mabel Lewis, Mary Jordan and Nellie Moulton.

Pretty Wedding.

A very pretty wedding, in which the contracting parties were residents of Portland, took place at the home of Mr. James F. Norton in Farmington Tuesday evening. Miss Lizzie Norton, the bride, has been a teacher in the Butler school in this city for a number of years past. The bridegroom was Mr. George F. French, head clerk for Loring, Short & Harmon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Pope of the Congregational church, and the couple left yesterday on the G. A. R. excursion to San Francisco.

Fast Time.

The Montreal express train over the Portland and Ogdensburg railroad, conductor Charles E. Hartshorn and engineer Wilson Chandler, Wednesday evening, brought over one hundred passengers into Portland. One Wagner drawing room car from Niagara Falls contained about forty of them. A large majority were from Montreal. The time from Fabyans, including stops, was two hours and forty-five minutes, one of which was fifteen minutes, at Bartlett. This is Flying Yankee time. The distance from Fabyans to Portland is 91 miles.

Our Foreign Trade.

For the month of June the value of imports at Portland was $237,862, and of exports $45,344. For the twelve months ending June 30, 1886, the value of imports was $1,507,644 against $1,297,080 for 1885 same time. For the same time in 1886 the value of exports was $3,053,522 against $4,150,269 for the same twelve months in 1885.

THE FISHERIES.

An Apparently Unjust Discrimination.

On of our leading fish dealers said yesterday he thought it very unjust that the Canadians were permitted to send their fish in bond to Portland and thence to Boston and New York where it was reshipped to their colonies in the Windward Islands, also in Bermuda and Jamaica, while our vessels were not permitted to land fish in colonial ports and have it sent forward in bond to the United States.

Another fish dealer said that he thought Secretary Bayard was mistaken when he said that our fish exports and imports were almost equal, the former exceeding the latter only to the amount of about $200,000. He thought the Secretary mixed up his statistics so that he was mistaken when he said that now intercourse between the two countries would, by the dropping off in the sale of our fish only make up the difference between the two. Our fish sent to Canada is charged duty, while theirs is admitted free.

A WARLIKE HANDBILL.

A number of the Commercial street fishing firms received copies of a handbill, yesterday morning. The bills were printed and sent here from Gloucester. They are about 10 by 14 inches in size, printed in bright red ink on white paper and make a very warlike appearance. The circular reads as follows:

PIRATES AND THIEVES.

OWNERS AND FISHERMEN OF NEW ENGLAND. ATTENTION.

WHAT THEY THINK OF US IN HALIFAX.

The Halifax Herald speaks of us as follows:—"But fishing vessels of Gloucester and thereabouts, armed as they are by pirates and manned by thieves, we neither love nor respect, and against them we believe in enforcing any and every law that is in our power to enforce."

GOVERN YOURSELVES ACCORDINGLY.

International Steamship Company.

The management of the International Steamship company have been gradually fitting up and improving on the general management of their magnificent steamers until now it is doubtful if a better managed steamship line exists in America. The discipline among the crew and the effect of the boat drill, which the crew are regularly put through, was fully demonstrated on the recent case of suicide by drowning off the State of Maine. From the time the steamer was stopped, a boat launched and manned, the body recovered and put on the steamer, and the State of Maine got under way, just 23 minutes elapsed. This speaks volumes for the discipline of the steamer. Not only has the crew been thoroughly drilled in handling the boats, but they have also been drilled as firemen. The steamers are supplied with 50 per cent. more hose than they are legally required to carry, and in a remarkably short space of time after an alarm is given the whole steamer is surrounded in such a way that makes it next to impossible for a fire to get any headway.—St. John Sun.

Yachts at Peaks Island.

Yacht Whistler of Boston, has on board Captain Joseph W. Sherman, Jr., Sherman S. Bradley, W. F. Stratton, Ed. Simpson and James L. Richards. They will leave for Camden this morning.

The Latona sailed Wednesday morning to the eastward.

The elegant schooner yacht Tempest arrived Wednesday night.

The yacht Belle of Boston, arrived Wednesday with a large party on board.

Will Plead Guilty.

George P. Gould of Houlton, has been confined in jail at Bangor for some time past for selling liquor without a United States license Becoming tired of lying in jail without a trial and being unable to furnish bonds he agreed to plead guilty if brought before the court. Accordingly United States Marshal Harmon went to Bangor and brought the prisoner to this city. His case will be decided before Judge Webb today.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

THE SEBASTICOOK & MOOSEHEAD LAKE RAILROAD.

James O. Bradbury, Esq., of Hartland, has devoted nearly his whole time for a month past in getting the subscriptions to the stock of the Sebasticook and Moosehead Lake railroad, working up the interest in the project, and in getting the necessary legal documents. He was at Skowhegan Wednesday evening, met the Railroad Commissioners at Hotel Coburn where the document was perfected and the certificate of the Railroad Commissioners affixed thereto. Tuesday Mr. Bradbury proceeded to Augusta, where the necessary record was made, the charter issued, and Mr. Bradbury returned to his home with the charter in his pocket a happy man. The route is to be viewed by the Commissioners to-day and if they approve it, the pick and shovel will be put operation forthwith.

Exploit of an Aged Heroine in a Midnight Fray.

Madison (Me.) Bulletin.

Daniel Randall, Jr., of Blackwell Hill, Madison, while dreaming of the wild animals of Forepaugh's show, was suddenly awakened about midnight by what he supposed at first to be the roaring of an escaped lion; but after looking around and upon opening the window he found that the noise came from a skunk that had taken possession of a flour barrel that was used as quarters for a hen and her chicken. As Mr. Randall was temporarily laid up with a lame knee he was not able to leave the house and save the little chickens; but in this delemma Mrs. Jane Hall, an old lady, 70 years old, volunteered to go to the rescue. She armed herself with a pitchford and axe and bravely sallied forth and in an incredibly short time she ran the skunk through with the pitchfork and cut his head off with one blow of the axe. Result of the battle, a decapitated skunk, two dead chickens and a victory for the old lady.

Nearly Drowned.

Mr. Rice of the Boston Herald, a guest at the Sea Shore House, while bathing Wednesday started to swim out to the yacht anchored in the bay. He was joined by a stranger and together they reached the yacht, but the water was very cold and the stranger was chilled and exhausted so that after getting into the yacht he lay in a helpless condition. Mr. Rice again plunged into the ocean and swam ashore, and got a boat, starting after his companion in the swim. This effort told upon Mr. Rice this time and he reached the beach completely exhausted. He was cared for by the guests at the Sea Shore, but it was not until after several hours, that he was himself again. The other gentleman whose name we did not learn was brought ashore and assistance rendered. —[Old Orchard Sea Shell.]

Horse Notes.

William Ladd of Athens sold the bay gelding known as "Athens Boy," to Josiah Hight of the same place, the price being $635. "Athens Boy" is five years old, is by Cunard, and out of a Drew mare. When four years old he was driven over the Hartland track in 2.42½, with scarcely any fitting.

The roan mare Zara, owned by T. H. Nye of Brewer, made quite a fast mile, considering the condition of the track, over Maplewood Park, Bangor, recently. The time, as taken by a number of spectators, was 2.39. Zara is fifteen hands and one inch in height, and weighs 950 pounds. She was sired by Young Buchanan, dam by Gen. McLellan, and her owner expects her to trot fast this season. She will probably be trotted at the coming fair.

How Three Babies Were Left.

(Belfast Journal.)

James S. Harriman was in Boston Saturday and secured three ball players for the Belfast club. He was to arrive in Burnham Sunday morning, and to obtain conveyance down telegraphed Gus Colburn as follows: "I shall be in Burnham tomorrow with three babies. At what time can you meet me?" About the same time Rev. J. A. Ross, who is absent, telegraphed his wife: "I shall preach at Maynard tomorrow." The telegrams got mixed and the base ball intelligence was sent to Mrs. Ross and the religious item to Colburn. Mrs. Ross was no doubt somewhat surprised to be asked to meet a party at Burnham with "three babies."

Retaliation for Canadian Performances.

Calais Advertiser.

The Bay Pilot (St. Andrews) says Mr. Alex. Bell of that place, anxious to find employment for his large boat, applied at the Frontier Packing Company's factory at Robinson, Me., for a chance to carry thereto sardines from the weirs in St. Andrews bay; he got a chance but was not long permitted to continue, for the customs officer at Robinson notified the manager that if Bell's boat came again with fish and did not enter and pay duty thereon at the rate of $5 per hogshead, the boat would be seized. This of course put an end to Bell's contract.

STATE POLITICS.

CAUCUS OF WESTBROOK REPUBLICANS.

At the Republican caucus held in this village last night there was a large attendance and much interest manifested. The following delegates were elected:

F. M. Ray, C. M. Waterhouse, Roger A. Foss, William W. Cutter, Arthur K. Walker, John E. Ford, A. M. Quimby, Chas. E. Jackson.

Gowen of Freedom, and Rev. B. C. Wentworth of Belfast are signed to the call as members of the district committee for Waldo county. The other counties in the district are also represented on the committee.

The Reason for It.

Squirrel Island Squid.

We never could make out why Boothbay girls were so interested in the reports of yacht races, until we happened to catch one, the other day, with her finger on this passage: "In making the turn, the Maggie hugged the buoy closest and so secured the lead."

All Run Down

From the weakening effects of warm weather, by hard work, or from a long illness, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. If you have never tried this peculiar medicine, do now. It will give you strength and appetite.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me new life, and restored me to my wonted health and strength." WILLIAM H. CLOUGH, Tilton, N. H.

Given Up To Die

"I was completely run down, and was for nearly four years under medical treatment, being given up to die by physicians. My mother urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. At last I consented, and I have never taken any thing which helped me as much as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which restored me to health and vigor. I have been taking it about four months, and am now a different being. I can work all day with very little fatigue. I recommend it to any one whose system is prostrated." NELIA NOBLE, Peoria, Ill.

A Good Appetite

"When I bought Hood's Sarsaparilla I made a good investment of one dollar in medicine for the first time. It has driven off rheumatism and improved my appetite so much that my boarding mistress says I must keep it locked up or she will be obliged to raise my board with everyother boarder that takes Hood's Sarsaparilla." THOMAS BURRELL, 139 Tillary Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"We all like Hood's Sarsaparilla, it is so strengthening." LIZZIE BALFOUR, Auburn, R. I.

ORIENTAL NERVE FOOD!

NOT A MEDICINE! NOT A ALCOHOLIC TONIC!

But a Pleasant, Powerful, Healthy and Strengthening Beverage!

Neither opium nor alcohol; only the wonderful extract of the food plant of the tropics; an immediate and complete restoration for weariness and nervous exhaustion of any nature; in paralysis, or a tendency thereto, as indicated by numbness, the Oriental Food has been used with the most favorable results, and the effect has usually been found almost immediate.

For sale by Druggists and the trade generally.
